

Q. I guess some things are worth waiting for; a three-hour delay but you come out and you break your age. That doesn't happen that often, does it?

TOM WATSON: Well, I hit two really fine long iron shots and a real good 5-wood into 18. I made two birdies there on the long par 3s and I made an eagle on the final hole to break my age. Shot 65 and I'm 66. That's pretty cool. That's a neat thing to do.

Q. So remind me, you haven't shot your age in tournament action, you keep --

TOM WATSON: No, I have, I have. This is the third time I've broken my age.

DAVE SENKO: It's four now for you, Tom.

TOM WATSON: Is it four? Listen, I'm too old, I can't remember that stuff.

Q. Did the delay help you in any way? You seem to have come out and finished really strong.

TOM WATSON: Actually, my body didn't get stiff, it was still loose. Loose enough, let's put it that way. And actually the wind died down and it's perfect conditions right now. It's easy scoring conditions actually the last three or four holes.

Q. How did the course come through the storm because most of us thought maybe there would be water in the bunkers or greens?

TOM WATSON: No, it didn't rain all that much. We did get some hail on the north side of the golf course there. They covered the greens on 12 and 15. It was one of those summer storms or late summer storms.

Q. When you're close to breaking your age, is that a goal, is that something you keep in mind out there?

TOM WATSON: Yeah, yeah, sure. I'm like anybody else, I know what I'm shooting. When I was a kid it was always about the score, what score was I shooting. Still the same thing.
